

Change of Company Name, ASX Ticker Code and Website Address

Following shareholder approval at the 2024 Annual General Meeting (AGM) on Thursday, 19 December 2024, the Company's name is changing from Incitec Pivot Limited to Dyno Nobel Limited (Dyno Nobel) on 31 March 2025 (or such other date as ASIC alters the details of the Company's registration).

The Company's Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) ticker code will change from 'IPL' to 'DNL' on or about 3 April 2025. The Company's website address has been updated to www.dynonobel.com.au.

All communications to shareholders from the Company going forward will be from Dyno Nobel.

The change of company name and branding aligns with our strategy and our focus on the Dyno Nobel brand, which is globally recognised in the explosives industry. Its proud history dates back to industry innovators, Alfred Nobel and William Bickford over 160 years ago, and is one of excellence in innovation and safety, and a reputation of delivering for its customers. This legacy and reputation of excellence underpins our belief in the future of the Dyno Nobel brand, to build on the trust of our customers as we grow in existing and new markets and in support of our ambition to be the global leader in explosives products and services.

Incitec Pivot will remain the brand of our Incitec Pivot Fertilisers business in Australia.

General FAQs

- Only the company name and ASX ticker code will change. The company's Australian Business Number (ABN), 42 004 080 264, remains unchanged.
- Moving forward, all company announcements, communications and reports will be issued under the Dyno Nobel company name and brand.
- Following the change of ASX ticker code, all company announcements (including those released prior to the change) will appear under the company's new ASX ticker code 'DNL'.
